VANDERHOEF QUAD

THE UNIVERSITY GATEWAY

University Gateway is the contemporary front door to a campus embarking on its second remarkable century. This district was planned to be a regional center for the exchange of ideas. It is anchored by the elegant Mondavi Center for the Arts. Both the Walter A. Buehler Alumni and Visitors Center and our Hotel and Conference Center frame a charming greenspace while offering many unique spaces to accommodate a variety of celebrations.

THE MONDAVI CENTER

BARBARA K. AND W. TURRENTINE JACKSON HALL

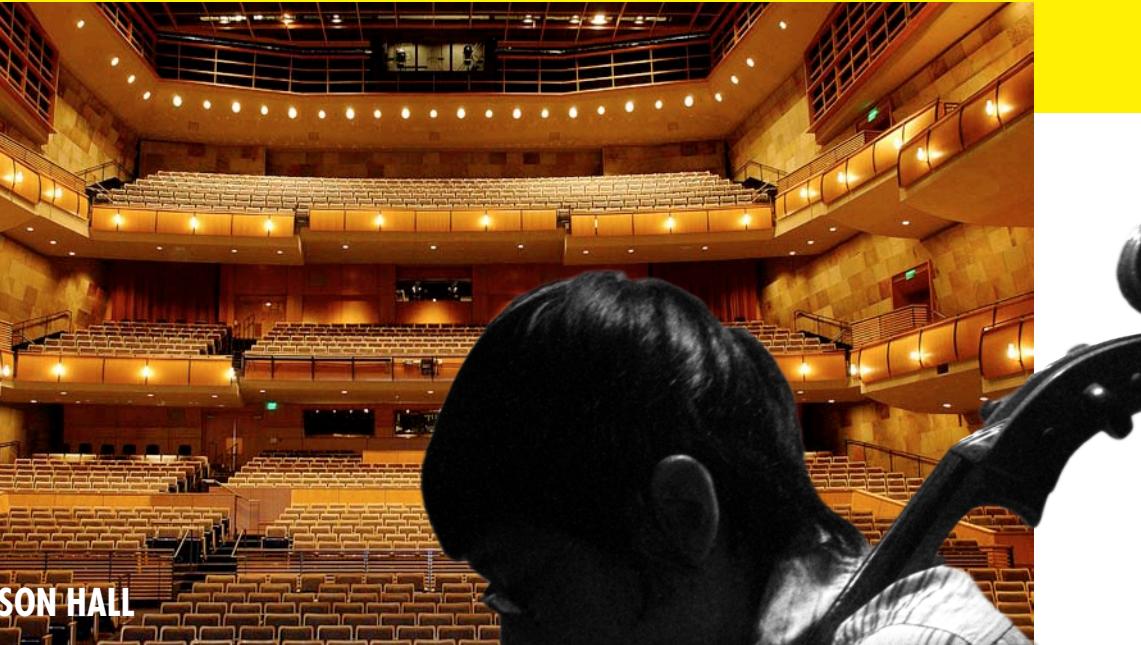

Known for its eye catching architecture and acoustic excellence, this 1,800-seat theater is gaining an international reputation as a superb performance space. Our state of the art sound and lighting systems can be "fine-tuned"—acoustically and otherwise—for all types of events from concerts to Broadway productions, to lectures and commencements.

VANDERHOEF STUDIO THEATRE

The 3,000 square foot Studio Theatre features a window wall overlooking an outdoor plaza and the UC Davis Arboretum. It is a fully equipped theater suitable for dance, drama and music performances, and it can also be set up as a dining or lecture space.

THE QUAD

THE QUAD DISTRICT

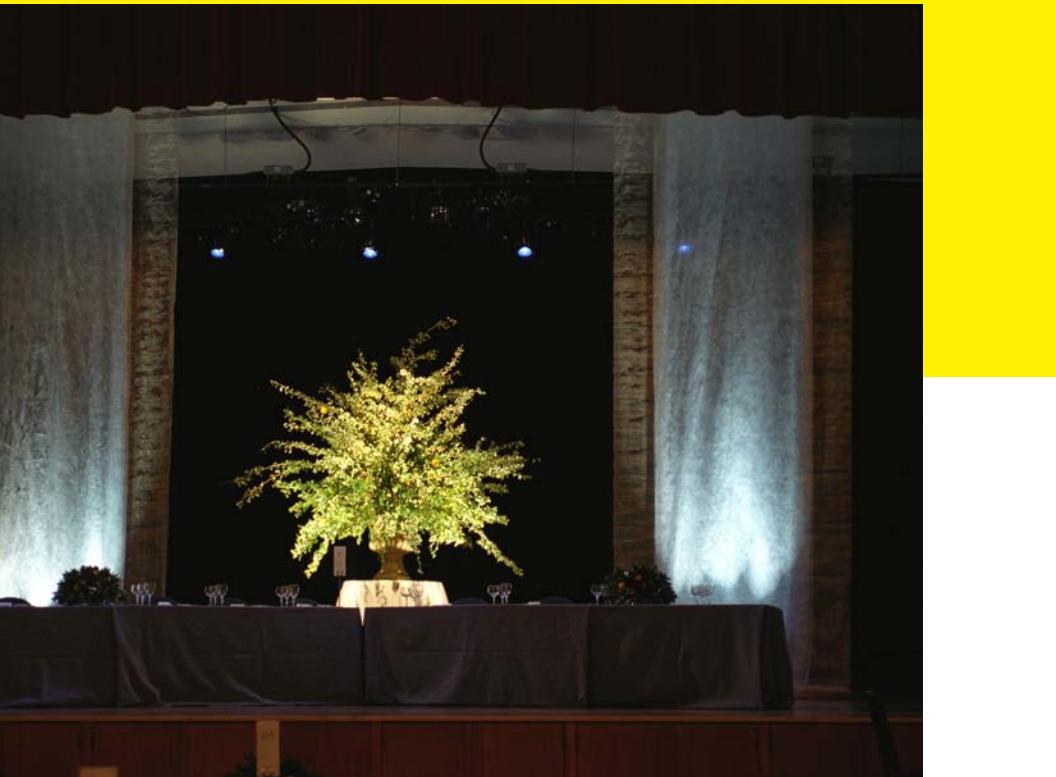

The Quad is the historic center of UC Davis as well as the center of student life. Freeborn Hall and Memorial Union meeting rooms are located in the Quad District and can be booked individually or together. These facilities form a conference district that can accommodate up to 1,800 people in a versatile space with numerous breakout rooms. Across from the Memorial Union is the tree-lined Quad, offering acres of expansive green lawn for events of all kinds.

FREEBORN HALL

This versatile auditorium provides an excellent setting for banquets, auctions, weddings, conferences, concerts and tradeshows. In addition to a spacious main floor area, Freeborn Hall features a proscenium stage, theatrical lighting, two backstage dressing rooms with restrooms and showers, and an on-site box office. Lighting, sound and audio/visual equipment can be used to enhance stage presentations, proms, concerts or any event set-up. Flexible seating and a large selection of event decorations and pipe and drape systems make this one our most adaptable event spaces.

THE QUAD

The tree-lined Quad is located at the center of campus, and is host to a variety of events each year. Seated across from the Memorial Union, the Quad is a flexible venue that can be tented to suit your event. This grassy space is perfect for outdoor events like open-air concerts, vendor fairs and festivals.

LIFE SCIENCES BUILDING

THE SILO DISTRICT

Home to UC Davis' world-class education, the Silo District offers lecture halls suited for professional settings as well as rustic spaces for dining and smaller conferences. The district is anchored by a restored dairy barn, the Silo, reminiscent of our agricultural history. Today, the Silo houses the Cabernet conference room and offers on-site retail dining at the Gunrock Pub.

GUNROCK PUB CAFE

Gunrock Pub Café is a full-service restaurant that offers a classic menu based on locally-grown, seasonal ingredients. It is easily accessible from many meeting rooms on campus for casual retail dining. Located in the Silo District, Gunrock Pub Café includes a landscaped, private patio nestled in this historic setting.
